

Aspects of Death

Aspects of death is a multidisciplinary seminar series, hosted by the Department of Archaeology and Ancient History, that focuses on the human relationship with Death. This semester we focus on the theme Aspects of deaths with positive and negative outcomes.

19 Sept kl. 15.30-17.

Anders Kaliff & Terje Østigård.

Cremation, Corpses and Cannibalism. A bookpresentation and a seminar.

11 Oct kl. 15.30-17.30 Aspects of Death with Positive outcomes

Sami Uljas

No pain, no gain. The 'glorious suffering' and death in Coptic martyrdom literature.

Kalle Lindholm

Remembering 1904-1907. Death in OvaHerero narrative and embodied memory.

Frands Herschend

Iron Age Scandinavians elevated in death.

8 Nov kl. 15.45-17.45 Aspects of Death with Negative outcomes

Gunnel Ekroth

Violence and virginity: causes for dangerous deaths in ancient Greece.

Helene Martinsson Wallin

The umu for the white chicken – archaeology and death in Rapa Nui (Easter Island)

Paul Wallin

War victims and human sacrifices in a Polynesian context.

6 Dec. kl. 16 -18. Room 2K-1024

Charlotte Hedenstierna-Jonson & Neil Price

Female Viking warriors? Exploring Birka chamber grave Bj.581 and its implications

Seminar room 2-2033 if nothing else is specified.

There will be a post-seminar after each seminar.

Questions about the seminar? Contact one of the organizers, Jhonny Therus, Anne Landborg or Ben Raffield jhonny.therus@arkeologi.uu.se, anne.landborg@egyptologi.uu.se, ben.raffield@arkeologi.uu.se